

Secretary of Education Hufstедler visits Gallaudet

by Sue Ellis

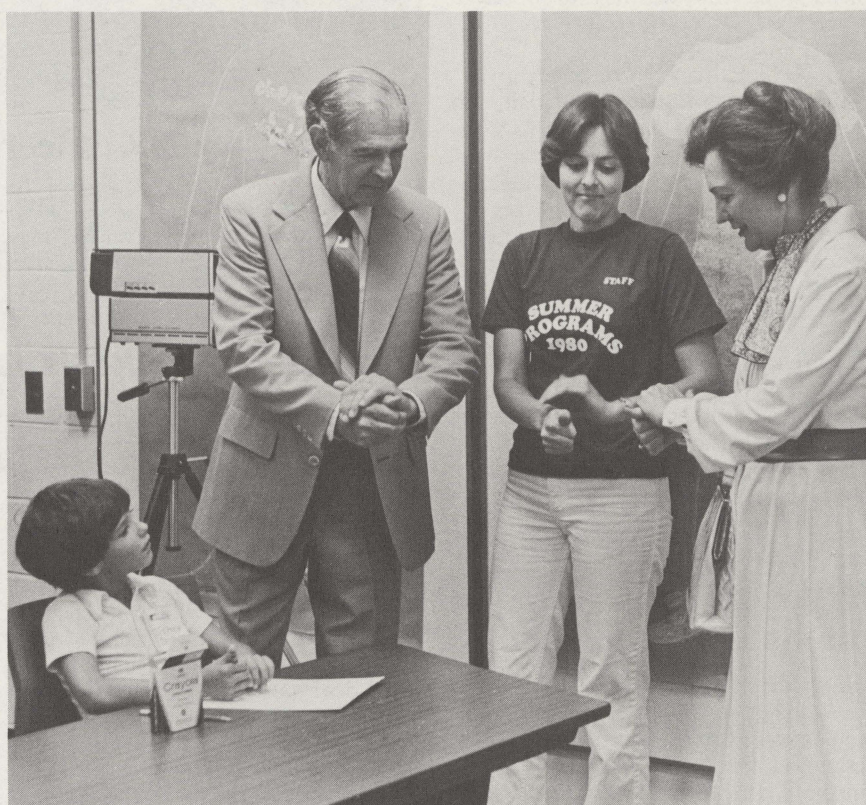

She speaks softly and carries a big commitment—"learning never ends." And nowhere in her travels as the nation's first Secretary of Education has Shirley M. Hufstедler found that to be more evident than during her visit on July 25 to Kendall Green as she observed and chatted with groups ranging from preschoolers to parents.

The Secretary arrived on campus with Dr. Edwin W. Martin, Assistant Secretary for Special Education and Rehabilitative Services, for a whirlwind observation of a couple of Gallaudet's summer programs. Her first stop was at Kendall Demonstration Elementary School where she admired the new facilities, sat in on a primary class and learned the sign for "chicken." For KDES Middle School students studying the intricacies of different communication modes she had a personal word of encouragement and a handshake for each.

At MSSD Secretary Hufstедler watched as preschoolers here with their parents for the Family Learning Vacation discovered the mystery of how corn pops—and with great delight she learned the sign for "popcorn."

The Secretary asked to be introduced to each of the parents involved in the Learning Vacation and was excited to find out that they hailed from all across the country, as well as from France. Ms. Hufstедler told the parents: "The life of a handicapped child depends so heavily on how the parents perceive that child. I am happy to see such a successful program and to know that you are learning along with your children. I encourage you in this learning and loving experience."

Accompanying the Secretary on her tour was Edward C. Merrill, Jr., Robert Davila, Thomas Mayes, Leon LeBuffe, Lee Murphy, Michael Deninger, Carl Kirchner, Truman Stelle, Virginia Beach and Sue Ellis.

Kendall Green welcomed Secretary of the US Department of Education Shirley M. Hufstедler on July 25 for observations of the Primary and Middle School classes at KDES and the Family Learning Vacation held at MSSD. Here, with an assist from Dr. Merrill, the Secretary learns to make the sign for "turtle," as students and staff of the Learning Vacation look on.

Parking: Oh what a relief it is

by Floyd Holt

Remember all the anxiety that developed when you heard the Auditorium parking lot would close for construction of the new Field House? Well, by the efforts of Jerry Lee, assistant vice president for Business Affairs who took your concerns to personal task, Gallaudet has acquired the use and ownership of the property known as Plaza Chevrolet. These purchases and leasehold agreements have made it possible for Gallaudet to increase its parking by almost 200 spaces. This along with approximately two acres of land near the Little Tavern Sandwich Shop which also belong to the College, Gallaudet has netted a gain in parking spaces of more than 270 spaces above what we had when the Auditorium lot was available.

The Parking and Traffic Committee and I have developed a new zone allocation scheme using 1979-1980 parking data which we believe will more equitably divide the numbers of spaces to parkers. For example:

1. In 1979-1980, 233 persons registered cars for the Red Zone (A). This new scheme allocates 305 spaces to that zone.
2. In 1979-1980, 188 persons registered cars for the yellow zone (C). This year we have allocated 282 spaces to that zone.

The bottom line indicates that we have available 1,411 spaces for parking this year; an increase from 1,141 of last year.

In approximately two weeks, maps of the new zone delineations will be available at the front desk of the Campus Police Station. Additionally, the new parking permits for next year will be available for those who wish to avoid the last minute rush.

I should like to say to all members of the campus community, "Thank you for your tolerance during this parking 'crunch.' It is a commentary of your class."

Allen Sussman

Sussman assumes duties as dean of Student Affairs

Dr. Allen Sussman has assumed his new duties as dean of Student Affairs at Gallaudet. In his new position, which began July 1, Sussman is now the chief administrative officer for all units of student services and activities except for Academic Affairs. He will also be serving as a liaison with other campus unit administrators through the Council of Deans.

Dr. Richard Phillips, who retired as dean of Student Affairs at the end of spring semester, has assumed the position of chairperson of the Department of Counseling.

Since 1973, Sussman was assistant professor of counseling with the Department of Counseling at Gallaudet. He also was responsible for supervising graduate students in practicum and internship, mainly at the Gallaudet College Counseling Center, and for administrative supervision, planning and development of the Student Special Services Project. Since 1975 he has also served part-time as a consulting psychologist with the Counseling Center.

Sussman received his BA in Education from Gallaudet in 1955. He went on to receive the MA in Rehabilitation Counseling from New York University in 1965 and the PhD in Counseling Psychology from New York University in 1973.

Before he came to Gallaudet, Sussman worked as staff psychologist and coordinator, and later as director, of the Mental Health Program for the Deaf, Community Mental Health Center, Maimonides Medical Center in Brooklyn, New York. He also worked with the Deafness Research and Training center at New York University and with the New York City Office, Division of Vocational Rehabilitation.

Sussman has received numerous honors and has published many articles related to deafness in a number of journals and magazines. His professional activities include serving as a consultant for development and research on tests for deaf applicants with the US Civil Service Commission, a member of the advisory board of the Journal of Mental Health and Deafness with St. Elizabeth's Hospital, member of the National Task Force on the Preparation of Psychologists for Deaf People with the Rehabilitation Services Administration of DHEW, and co-chairman of both the counseling and psychology sections of Professional Rehabilitation Workers With the Adult Deaf.

Among Ourselves

Frank Zieziula of the Department of Counseling recently conducted a two-day in-service workshop for the staff of the newly inaugurated Cape Cod Alcoholism Intervention and Rehabilitation Unit project for the deaf. The workshop took place in West Falmouth, MA on July 31 and Aug. 1.

Edward C. Merrill, Jr. has been invited to be a member of the U.S. Council for the International Year of Disabled Persons (1981). The initial planning meeting for IYDP was held at MSSD.

Floyd Holt, manager of Safety and Security, recently traveled to the Scranton School for the Deaf in Pennsylvania to do a safety and security survey of the Scranton campus and to assess their security needs. Vic Galloway, former director of education at MSSD, is now superintendent of the Scranton School for the Deaf.

Laura-Jean Gilbert, director of publications for the Alumni and Public Relations Office, has recently moved from her old office in the basement of MSSD to a new office in Room 213 A&B of MSSD. Her phone number is same, x5858.

Miller to speak on visual problems

Dr. Beverly Miller, the only optometrist in Washington, DC, Maryland and Virginia who combines a specialty in low vision with the visual problems of hearing impaired persons, will appear on "Good Morning Washington," ABC-TV Channel 7, some time in August in an effort to further expand the public's knowledge in this area.

Miller is a partner in Greenbelt Eye Associates, Berwyn Heights, MD. She recently participated in an interview of radio station WTOP-AM, the CBS affiliate in Washington, dealing with the visual needs of hearing impaired individuals.

For information about visual problems of hearing impaired people, Miller can be contacted at (202) 223-6271.

ADK officers on campus

Gallaudet's Director of Development Betty Fuchs (left, forward), Frances Merrill (right) and other Gallaudet administrators and staff welcome officers of Alpha Delta Kappa International Sorority in House 1 during their recent visit to Gallaudet. The officers came here to observe the Family Learning Vacation and are considering providing financial support for the program.

GHA survey on deaf members

Deafpride, Inc. is collecting information about how many deaf people are members of the Group Health Association.

If applicable to you, please answer the questions below as it will help G.H.A. offer the best service to deaf members. G.H.A. is investigating the possibility of providing TDD and interpreting services in the future but needs to know how many deaf members it is serving.

You can send this survey to:

Guide for deaf notaries available

A guide for deaf notaries and for hearing notaries who notarize documents for deaf persons has been published by the American Society of Notaries, the only national nonprofit organization of notaries in the United States.

"Notarizing By and For the Deaf" offers advice on communications between a notary and the person having a document notarized when either one of them is deaf.

The booklet was written by Richard Herring, a member of the notary group, who has been deaf since birth. In the booklet Herring encourages other deaf persons to become notaries and tells them how to do it.

Single copies of the 22-page booklet may be obtained by sending 30 cents to American Society of Notaries, 810 18th St. NW Washington, DC 20006.

Bell offers TDD

The Bell System is now offering operator services to customers who use their own Telecommunications Devices for the Deaf (TTY/TDD units). This service provides operator assistance for most types of calls. Information booklets describing the types of calls and exact procedures for placing them have been ordered and will be distributed upon receipt.

The following types of calls can be placed through the TDD operator by dialing 800/855-1155 (9-800/855-1155 from on campus):

- Credit card calls
- Collect calls (placing and receiving)
- Calls billed to a third number
- Person-to-person calls
- Calls from a hotel or motel
- Operator assistance (long distance and local information, operator assistance in placing a call, and reporting problems with telephone services or bills)

Sponsored R&D

Grant/contract deadlines

Provided below are application deadlines of selected federal programs that offer potential grant or contract opportunities for Kendall Green faculty, staff and graduate students. The deadline is followed by an abbreviation of the federal agency and the program title. More details on programs of interest can be obtained from Glenn Pfau, Office of Sponsored Research, x5030 (Voice or TTY).

Deadline	Program
08/19/80	NSF/NIE—Development and Research in Mathematics Using Information Technology
08/22/80	NSF—Student Science Training Program
09/01/80	NSF—History and Philosophy of Science
09/01/80	NSF—Science in Developing Countries
09/28/80	AHNC—Very Special Arts Festival
10/01/80	NIDA—Drug Abuse Prevention Grants
10/15/80	AHNC—Model Sites and Special Projects

10/24/80	NSF—Unsolicited Proposals Related to Mathematical Science
11/01/80	NICHHD—Developmental Aspects of Nutrition

Weekly program highlight

The National Institute of Education is seeking a two-part, two-year study of special education in rural school districts. The first stage of the contract is to prepare a series of case studies of the varied forms of collaborative arrangements that rural school districts use in serving students with special needs. The arrangements will be analyzed in terms of equity, quality and efficiency in provision of services. The second part of the contract will be to synthesize data from other completed research or from studies in progress on rural implementation of P.L. 94-142. The closing date for proposals for this study has not been established.

For more information, contact the Office of Sponsored Research or the Contracts and Grants Management Division of the National Institute of Education.

President's Office Notes

A visit to Australia

From July 10 to July 20, Edward C. Merrill, Jr. visited Melbourne and Sydney, Australia. He was accompanied by Graham Peters, a Gallaudet graduate student from Australia, Georgene Fritz, a Gallaudet doctoral student, and Barbara Pollard, a Gallaudet alumna who now works as a social worker at Family Services of Prince George's County. Sheila Grenell, coordinator of Interpreter Referral Services, accompanied the group and served as the interpreter. The group visited a number of schools and agencies for the deaf and became acquainted with many professionals serving deaf people.

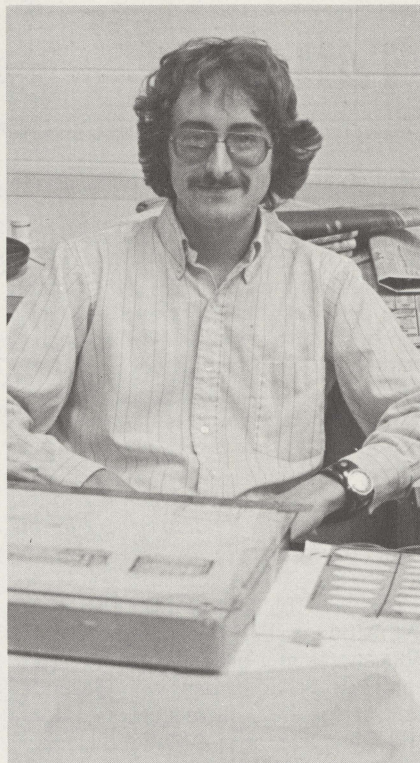

Early in the trip the group had lunch with Ian H.M. Lonie, president of the board of the Victorian School for the Deaf. At this luncheon also were Peter Howson, president of the Deafness Foundation (Victoria), Philip Smiley, president of the Adult Deaf Society of Victoria and John Flynn, executive director of the Adult Deaf Society of Victoria. They visited the Adult Deaf Center and met approximately 100 deaf people from various locations in Australia.

Merrill addressed the group, speaking about Gallaudet College briefly and following with major trends occurring in the United States. The trends he identified were the new legal framework, consumer power, technological developments and the efforts to obtain broader employment opportunity. Graham Peters also spoke, talking about the comparatively positive attitude toward handicapped people which he has discovered in the United States.

The group also paid visits to the St. Kilda School, the John Pierce Center, a Roman Catholic facility which invites deaf families to come together for entertainment, instruction and worship, the Lakeside Residence for older deaf people, the Victorian School for Deaf Children and the Royal N.S.W. Institution for Deaf and Blind Children. At each of these places, the Gallaudet delegation had the opportunity to meet principals, teachers, rehabilitation workers and welfare officers as well as engage in seminars and discussions about the various issues affecting the education and employment of deaf people. The discussion generally centered around trends in the United States for deaf people, particularly employment issues. The presence of Pollard, Fritz and Peters indicated to the Australian people that deaf people can pursue professional careers; Australia models its system of education after the British system and as such secondary education and postsecondary education is limited for all people, and this is particularly true for deaf persons.

The major activity of the trip was participation in the convention of Quota International. Quota International is a service organization of professional women which sponsors the "Shatter Silence" program, related to the education of deaf persons. The Shatter Silence program at the convention opened with a performance by the Australian National Theater of the Deaf. The performance was followed by presentations by the Gallaudet delegation. Fritz and Pollard spoke about information sharing and employment, respectively, and suggested possible future goals for Quota International. Peters followed suggesting goals in the areas of involvement, acceptance and attitudes. The Shatter Silence program ended with the award of the Quota International Deaf Woman of the Year being presented to Mrs. Alberta Smith, principal of the Tennessee School for the Deaf. She received the award graciously, sharing with the audience that when she lost her hearing, she "lost her dreams." Attending North Carolina School for the Deaf and Gallaudet College enabled her to dream again and many of her dreams have since come true. In addition to formal involvement in the Shatter Silence program, the Gallaudet delegation attended all luncheons and dinners and were heavily involved in discussions with members of Quota International. The group returned home with a better understanding of the circumstances surrounding the lives of Australian deaf people.

Money Talks

Major Legislative History of Gallaudet College

Gallaudet College is a nonprofit corporation that is a privately-controlled educational institution created and established by Acts of the United States Congress.

The enabling and authorizing legislation, enacted by the United States Congress over a period of more than 100 years, is an impressive documentation of the longstanding concern of the federal government to provide education and training to deaf persons and otherwise further the education of the deaf.

1. Gallaudet's original incorporation

On Feb. 16, 1857 (11 Stat. L., 161-162), Gallaudet's long and interesting history had its official beginning with the enactment of legislation by the United States Congress to incorporate Gallaudet under the name then known as the Columbia Institution for the Instruction of the Deaf and Dumb and Blind.

2. Gallaudet authorized to confer degrees (seven years after original).

On April 8, 1864 (13 Stat. L., 45), president Abraham Lincoln signed into law an Act passed by the 38th Congress authorizing the institution to confer degrees.

3. Gallaudet becomes an institution for only the deaf instead of the deaf and blind (eight years after original incorporation).

On Feb. 23, 1865 (13 Stat. L., 436), Congress amended the original Feb. 16, 1857 Acts as follows:

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That so much of the said act as requires the teaching of the blind in said institution be, and the same is hereby, repealed, and the corporate name and style thereof shall hereafter be 'The Columbia Institution for the Instruction of the Deaf and Dumb.'

4. Gallaudet officers and employees placed under the Civil Service Retirement Act (92 years after original incorporation).

On Oct. 19, 1949 (Public Law 362 - 81st Congress), Congress passed an Act to amend the Civil Service Retirement Act so as to make such Act applicable to the officers and employees of the Columbia Institution for the Deaf. This legislation permitted Gallaudet administration, faculty and staff to participate in Civil Service retirement, health and life insurance benefits.

5. Gallaudet charter amended to change the name of the institution, define its corporate powers, provide for its organization and administration and for other purposes (97 years after original incorporation).

On June 18, 1954 (Public Law 420 - 83rd Congress), Congress enacted legislation which changed the institution's name to Gallaudet College; invested Gallaudet with property ownership rights, subject to approval of the Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare on sale of real property; established a 13 member Board of Directors, with one member a U.S. Senator, two members U.S. Congressmen in the House of Representatives, and 10 nonpublic members; defined the powers of the Board of Directors; established the role of the General Accounting Office in auditing the institution's financial transactions; required the institution to submit annual reports to the Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare (now Secretary of Education); authorized appropriations by the U.S. Congress for the support of the institution on a permanent basis (prior to this time, appropriations to Gallaudet had been made annually on an ad hoc basis); and defined the purposes of Gallaudet to provide education and training to deaf persons and otherwise to further the education of the deaf.

6. Gallaudet's mission expanded to include a Model Secondary School for the Deaf (109 years after original incorporation).

On Oct. 15, 1966 (Public Law 694 - 89th Congress), the Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare was authorized to enter into an agreement with Gallaudet College for the construction operation and management of a Model Secondary School for the Deaf, to provide day and residential facilities for secondary education for persons who are deaf in order to prepare them for college and other advanced study, and to provide an exemplary secondary school program to stimulate the development of similarly excellent programs throughout the nation.

7. Gallaudet Board of Directors membership increased (111 years after original incorporation).

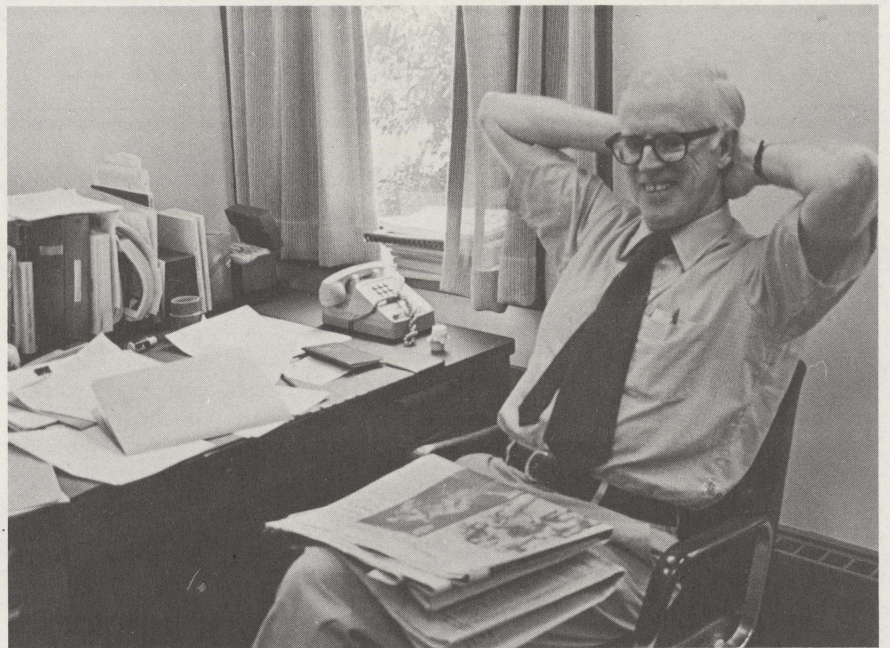

On July 23, 1968 (Public Law 415 - 90th Congress), Congress authorized an increase in the size of the membership of the Board of Directors (now Board of Trustees) from 13 to 21 members. The reason for the change was stated in the report which accomplished the bill:

Gallaudet must continue to be national and even an international resource for leadership in education of the deaf. As programs for the education of the deaf throughout the country expand and develop, Gallaudet will assume a greater leadership role. This legislation is a first step in the direction of new goals for higher education for the deaf... The Education and Labor Committee believes that this legislation will give national scope to the membership of the Gallaudet College Board of Directors and will thereby better reflect the character and quality of Gallaudet as a national institution. (H. Rept. 1689).

The composition of the membership of 21 was established as follows: (1) one United States Senator appointed by the president of the Senate; (2) two Representatives appointed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives; and (3) 18 nonpublic members, one of whom would represent the Gallaudet College Alumni Association.

8. Gallaudet's mission expanded further to maintain and operate Kendall School as a demonstration elementary school for the deaf (113 years after original incorporation).

On Dec. 24, 1970 (Public Law 587 - 91st Congress), the authority of Gallaudet College was enlarged to maintain and operate the Kendall School as a demonstration elementary school for the deaf to provide day and residential facilities for elementary education for persons who are deaf in order to prepare them for high school and other secondary study, and to provide an exemplary educational program to stimulate the development of similarly excellent programs throughout the nation.

Energy tips—help prevent "Brown Out"

During any prolonged excessively hot period as occurred in mid-July, power draws on the electrical facilities of our supplies reach a critical point. This can best be explained as a point where further demands on the capacity to generate and distribute power will cause a potential failure of the system.

Such a point was reached on July 21, affecting the whole east coast power network. PEPCO contacted us and informed us it was dropping the voltage by 5% and requested us to reduce our power load where we could.

If and when such condition occurs again, department heads will be notified and requested to turn off excess lighting and other electrical equipment not actually being used, such as copiers, window air conditioners in unoccupied offices, etc. The idea is not to interfere with your job, but to do it with the minimum use of power.

Prior notice of voltage and consumption reductions will not necessarily be standing procedure. Therefore, we do ask for your understanding and cooperation to help prevent a real "Brown Out" or widespread power failure, if and when you get such a request.

This is Theresa Tinch, not Michelle Burney as was reported in last week's On the Green. Tinch is a secretary with the office of Student Affairs.
